From the President

To the NC Movers Association Membership

As the cold days of the slow season arrive, I hope everyone has had a prosperous 2022. The Holidays are almost here so please try to relax a bit and enjoy the season with family and friends. There will be plenty of time to plan and set goals for 2023.

With the new challenges in our industry, it is good to know we have an association who supports it's members. Our workforce demands higher pay, equipment, insurance, and carton prices are higher than ever, and the DOD and FMCSA have made changes that affect us all. I am thankful that, through our NC Movers Association, I have made friends who share these challenges. Although we compete against each other, it is nice to talk and share experiences with someone who knows what it's like.

We had a great convention in Concord this year. I want to thank everyone who attended. We had several first-time sponsors this year. The representatives they sent did more than sell their products and services. They got involved with the members. They played in the cornhole and golf tournaments, but more importantly, they spent their free time getting to know the membership. We had a great time while making some solid business connections. Our speakers this year were, in my opinion, the best group I've heard at a convention. They will be hard to beat next year when we head back to the coast for the 2023 convention.

Watch for announcements of various MRT training, Seminar Training events, and board meetings in 2023. I encourage members to take advantage by sending your people to our training events. Every member is welcome to attend our board meeting. As always, you can call our Executive Director, Pam Stanley, with questions. She loves to help our members.

Moving Across State Lines

Remember if you have a USDOT number to transport household goods or any other commodities in INTERSTATE commerce, you must update your UCR registration before January 1.

If you are an authorized interstate household goods mover, remember the amended FMCSA rules are NOW being enforced. Here's a quick summary with which you should be aware. (With thanks to the New Jersey Warehouse and Movers Assn and ATA's Moving & Storage Conference.)

For a complete look at the interstate household goods regulations, click here. Remember, interstate moving is VERY DIFFERENT from moving within North Carolina. The rules, paperwork, and penalties are quite different. It pays to be aware of your obligations.

Third-Party Cold Weather Services Advisory

Please be advised that between November and April , CMS recommends next-day service on the following services items to give them time to acclimate to room temperatures.

These recommendations listed below come from our many years of experience and product knowledge as well as manufacturer procedures and recommendations. We will accommodate the shipper's request for same-day service; we do however want to stress our goal is to make the shipper 100% satisfied and prevent any damage or loss that would result from premature servicing of these items.

- Electronic Equipment – Manufacturers of TVs, computers, sound system components, fitness equipment electronics, and other electrical/electronic items warn that extreme temperature changes can cause condensation in electrical components and they “highly recommend” waiting 24 hours before servicing / reconnecting these types of items.
- Grandfather Clocks – Cold temperatures can cause the small gears, components, and moving parts of the clock mechanism to contract and therefore restrict movement. The oil used to lubricate clocks also can be affected by cold weather causing restricted movement within the mechanism. Clocks should be allowed to acclimate and reach room temperature before servicing, re-starting the clock.
- Washing Machines – Our technicians drain water from the pump at origin, however, the washer will always retain some water in the mixer valve, pump housing, and internal hoses. Attempting to operate any style of the washer with moisture frozen internally may result in damage to internal components.
- Dryers – Internal components such as igniters, ceramic heating elements can become brittle in cold temperatures, attempting to operate the dryer will cause a “sudden” temperature change and can damage internal parts.
- Icemakers – Our technicians drain the solenoid valves, supply lines, and the water filter (if applicable) when servicing at origin, however residual moisture in those internal parts may freeze. The ice maker/refrigerator should be allowed to reach room temperature to ensure a complete and thorough system check upon reconnection.
- Water Softeners – Residual water in supply tanks and lines may freeze during cold temperatures. These units should be allowed to reach room temperature before installation to prevent damage to components.
- Waterbed Mattresses – Residual moisture inside the mattress will freeze during cold temperatures. Attempting to handle a vinyl waterbed mattress before it is allowed to reach room temperature may cause cracking in the vinyl. Waterbed mattresses should be allowed 24 hours to reach room temperature before handling / re-assembly is attempted.

Coastal Carrier Moving and Storage of Wilmington held their 3rd Annual food drive on October 22, 2022, at the Piggly Wiggly in Leland, N.C. They partnered with Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter 885 in Wilmington NC. & Move for Hunger.

They are an AWESOME group of Veterans in Wilmington that Coastal Carrier will continue to partner with several times a year going forward. The Veterans collected & donated lots of non-perishables, and the community participation was phenomenal.

TEXTING AND DRIVING: IT CAN WAIT

Provided by: Wells Insurance
One North Third Street
Wilmington, NC 28401
Tel: 910.251-5449

When it comes to texting and driving, remember that it can wait. No text is as important as your life and the lives of your passengers and drivers around you.

5s

Sending or reading a text message takes your eyes off the road for about 5 seconds, long enough to cover a football field while driving at 55 mph.

Of all crashes, over 90 percent involve driver inattention within a 3-second window of the crash.

Each day in the U.S., approximately nine people are killed and over 1,000 are injured in crashes that involve a distracted driver, according to the NHTSA.

Some studies suggest that texting while driving is worse than driving drunk. In fact, a recent Car and Driver study tested the reaction times of an unimpaired driver, an unimpaired driver sending a text and a legally drunk driver. The legally drunk driver traveled four feet more than the unimpaired driver before realizing the need to brake, while the texting driver traveled 70 extra feet.

When you choose to text while driving, you're choosing to put the lives of every single driver around you at risk. What's more, people who drive for work are more likely to use a cellphone while driving than during their personal time, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).
